

IT'S WELLNESS MONTH

A Wellness Check-In for Your Pet, No Long Waits Required

October is National Pet Wellness Month, the perfect time for a quick, no-pressure check-in on your pet's health. Airvet is here to help, whenever it's convenient for you.

Why a wellness check-in matters

Regular check-ins help catch small changes before they become bigger concerns. A few minutes with an Airvet veterinarian can go a long way for your pet's long-term health.

Catch changes early

Weight, appetite, and energy shifts are easier to manage when you catch them early.

Ask anything, anytime

No question is too small. Get real answers from a licensed veterinarian in minutes.

Build a health baseline

A general visit gives you and your vet a starting point for your pet's ongoing care.

Schedule a general or welcome visit at no cost to you

New to Airvet or just due for a check-in? A general visit is the easiest way to introduce your pet, share their health history, and get personalized guidance, all without leaving home.
