

NOVEMBER IS NATIONAL SENIOR PET MONTH

Comfort and Care for Every Stage of Your Pet's Life

As pets age, their needs change. This Senior Pet Month, get guidance on what's a normal part of aging and simple ways to keep your pet comfortable, from an Airvet veterinarian.

What does aging look like in pets?

Aging looks different for every pet. An Airvet vet can help you tell the difference between normal aging and something worth a closer look.

Slowing down

Less interest in play, slower to get up, or more time spent resting.

Everyday changes

Shifts in appetite, weight, or how well they're sleeping.

Getting around

New stiffness or hesitation with stairs, jumping, or long walks.

Schedule a senior pet consultation at no cost to you

Talk through what you're noticing with a licensed veterinarian and walk away with practical, personalized ways to keep your senior pet comfortable in their life stage.

Scan the QR code or open the Airvet app to schedule your senior pet consultation.

Have a question? Email us: support@airvet.com