“At Epique, pets are family, and as a pet parent of three dogs, I couldn't be more excited for Epique to team up with Airvet to support our agents' furry friends!”

Christopher Miller,
COO & Co-Founder

“Airvet was great and answered promptly at 3:30am!

I'm impressed with Airvet and would 10/10 recommend!

Key results

19% Adoption
Airvet quickly became one of Epique's most popular benefits within weeks of launch.

31% Utilization
Employees repeatedly leverage Airvet as their digital front door for pet care.

400 Avoided in-person vet visits
Pets families received the care and support they need while saving time and money on in-person care.

A commitment to employee well-being

Epique Realty has maintained a competitive edge in a hyper-competitive industry by always putting its people, and their families, above all else. In 2024, Epique identified that there was a gap in their family benefits strategy -- pets. Epique knew they needed a partner that acknowledged and supported the essential role pets play in their agents' lives and well-being and could offer a solution to support all of the pet families in their organization.

Record growth in three months

Offering Airvet as a fully sponsored agent benefit was crucial for Epique Realty to differentiate itself and provide a equitable value-added service to their team. Within the first week, 15% of agents accessed Airvet, highlighting the demand for this benefit. Since its launch, Airvet has significantly boosted agent engagement and satisfaction, reinforcing Epique's commitment to meaningful support for their team.
